

Dear Prayer Warriors,

THANK YOU for your prayers - We arrived safely to our house in Cuiabá, Brazil about 4 pm on Saturday. Our kids and grandkids were excited to see what we had brought! It kinda felt like “Christmas in July (November)”. It was great to see their faces light up. {Of course actual Christmas presents were carefully repacked into one suitcase and put away.}

These flights were A LOT less comfortable than our other flights have been, but we are Thankful to GOD for safety during our travels. Later in the evening, after we had gotten home, I checked the thermometer. The temperature had fallen to 99° (F) in the shade. Many tease us about “running from the cold”, but it is going to take a while to get accustomed to these “less comfortable” temperatures again – so you can keep on praying!

Saturday was our daughter, Amanda’s, birthday, so we arrived JUST in time. There was a party for her today (Sunday) at Ademir’s folks to celebrate one more year of God’s blessings in her life; and to enjoy Brazilian Churrasco and family fellowship.

THANKS AGAIN for your prayers for our travel, our ministry, and our health. The planes were PACKED, but so far we don’t have any signs of covid. It’s great working for The Great Physician.
